A short time since Governor Foote, in a letter to Mr. Lewis, of the North Mississippi Union, statel, among other things, that he had been informed by Col. Joseph Leake, a Democrat of Tishemingo, that William H: Muse, of that county, and a candidate for the high office of Secretary of State, had charged his aged mother (who had came from Tennessee to visit him,) for board while she stayed under his roof by an invitation from him, and actually attached her property to satisfy the debt alleged to be due him on account of said board. We did not publish Stock of Dry Goods, to which we invite that the informant of the Governor was laboring under a misapprehension and prejudice, in making a charge which so seriously affected the character of Mr. Muse as a son and a citizen. Subsequently, a full and  Particular attention paid to Orders-and complete denial of the charge of attaching Planters and others may rely upon Goods and the property of his mother, was published Prices being satisfactory. G. N. Chunch & co. by Mr. Muse, and we hoped for the honor of humanity, that his denial was correct. This denial we did not publish, because we had not given publicity to Gov. F.'s letter, and because of the grossness of the language making a denial of the charge. Recently, The GENUINE COLLINS AXES, which however, Gov. Foote has responded to the county, which clearly establishes the fact that Mr. Muse did sue out the attachment against the property of his mother, and caused it to be levied thereon, and further intimates that the said Muse subsequently erased or obliterated the public records of to unfilial like conduct. Hon. H. S. FOOTE,

Dear Sir: At the March Term, 1863, E. Wooten, Dept. Sheriff, returned to me a writ of attachment, wherein W. H. Muse was plaintiff, Mrs. Rachel Muse (I think CHARES T. MANN. J. H. ANDREWS, M.
